LAS ALPUJARRAS

North of La Jarilla lies the Alpujarras, the South facing foot hills of the Sierra Nevada, the highest mountain range in Southern Europe and part of the Mediterranean Arch, which was created some 60 million years ago between the Pyrenees and the Rif Mountains in Morocco.

Famous for its high white villages with their distinctive flat roofs and cured hams, it makes a good days' run by car calling first at Orgiva followed by Pampaneira, Bubion, Capileira, Pitres, Trevellez, the highest village of all, until you reach a junction 5 kms before Juviles where you can either cut South again back to La Jarilla via Almegijar, Torvizcon and up to the Contraviesa Ridge (GR 443), for a shorter trip or, you can continue on to Cadiar via Juviles (the best hams, in my opinion) and Berchules. From Cadiar one returns to La Jarilla by way of the A348, A345 and shortly after the Restaurant La Tarugo turn right on to the Contraviesa Ridge (GR 443).

Most of the villages have a local style/produce restaurant and Bubion, Capileira and Trevellez have a choice of several, with many shops selling hams and local handcrafts.

SHOPPING AND SIGHTSEEING

GRANADA 85 KM

Granada has extensive shops on a par with any small city and many international and local style restaurants. It also has the Alhambra, Generalife and the Gypsy Caves situated in the Sacramento Mountain in the borough of Albaracin, below the Alhambra, with their many historical and architectural attractions. It has the nearest airport to La Jarilla (1 hr 15 mins) the other two being Almeria (1 hr and 25 mins) and Malaga (2hrs 15mins).

MOTRIL 50 KM

Small coastal town with three major supermarkets, banks, hospital and several good restaurants. Every car known to man has its own agent's garage! Once the center of a thriving sugar cane/rum industry and still the only place in Europe where rum is made.

ORGIVA 28 KM

Gateway to the Alpujarras with three local supermarkets, street market every Thursday, small hospital, several banks and three or four reasonable restaurants. It also has a 17th c. church and a library with more editions/versions of Don Quixote than anywhere else in the world!

EUROPE'S SOUTHERNMOST SKI RESORT Sierra Nevada

The Resort, which was opened in 1964, is less than a two-hour drive from La Jarilla and the journey take you through some of the most spectacular scenery in the province. It has 45 ski runs, covering some 80kms. Many international events have been held there including the '77 and '99 World Cups and in March the FIS Downhill World Cup is held there. There are 4 lifts that can take you to the slopes and from there you will find many lifts to the various runs. These are divided into 4 green, 18 blue, 18 red and 5 black runs.

There are lots of other activities in the area, such as hiking, mountain climbing, riding and canoeing (in the summer). The village of Pradollano has everything from several 4-2 star international hotels and apartment buildings to banks, supermarkets, medical facilities, hairdressers and shops. The resort also has a sports centre where you can relax and get a massage after a day on the slopes. The nightlife is as varied as it is fun. Skiing at night, restaurants, disco pubs and bars are all readily available.
